

Results from the Spring Student Survey will provide districts and schools with equity-driven, real-time insights into the experiences of students during the COVID-19 crisis, to amplify student voice and inform next steps.

We want to ensure the voices of your most marginalized students are heard.

Do You Want To?

- Elevate student voice, opinion and ideas
- See beyond urgent operational specifics
- Create conditions for school return and an equitable recovery

From Crisis to Opportunity:

Among the many pre-existing conditions laid bare by this current crisis are the deep and abiding inequities faced by our most marginalized student populations. This survey is our effort to provide you with a line of communication directly to these students. We ask you to ensure these students are targeted in appropriate and effective ways. We are here to support.

Having your students complete this 20-minute, online survey will provide you with the actionable insights you need to prepare for what comes next. To learn more, contact your Partnership Director or Partnership Manager. The COVID-19 Spring Student Survey is available until June 30.

Gain insights into:

- Instructional practices: How are students experiencing the varied instructional practices deployed by your school?
- Interpersonal experiences: How are students experiencing their interactions with students, teachers, counselors and administrators?
- Institutional infrastructure: How do students see and understand the new structures of school?
- Belonging: How are the cues and experiences of student belonging impacted by COVID-19?
- Citizenship: Are students changing the way they think and view their community and role in the world?
- Student Needs: What do students say, feel and want?
